Book of next week: Stomp, Chomp, Big Roars! Here Come the Dinosaurs!

Reminder:

Wednesday 11th of February is the last day of school - we finish normal times.

The children are back at Nursery on 23rd February.

Dear Parents,

This week in Literacy, we read the story 'Stomp, Chomp, Big Roars! Here Come the Dinosaurs!' We acted out the story out and learnt about rhyming words.

The children looked at different textures in the 'feely bag' and described the object.

We also focused on positional language. The children followed instructions to position dinosaurs on/under/next to/behind a chair.

Our science activity was watching our "dinosaur egg" hatch!

The children explored gloop and rescued the dinosaurs in our messy play area 😊 .

Thank you to Logie's dad for coming in to read a story.

Have a nice weekend!
Miss Kis and the Nursery Team

DONATIONS PLEASE

If you are able to donate any of the following, we would be most appreciative - scraps of fabric, old sheets/tablecloths.
